Mrs. J. T. Anthony of El Paso is visiting Mrs. L. H. Crawford. Mrs. Anthony attended West Texas State College when the first administration building burned.

Mrs. Lewis K. Armstrong of Phoenix, Ariz., is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. Burroughs.

A guest in the home of Mrs. T. W. Collins last week was her granddaughter, Jo Rene Collins of Odessa. Another granddaughter, Libby Bagot of Amarillo, spent a few days with Mrs. Collins and Jo Rene.

Visiting in the Worth Jennings home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Evans, Lee and Mike, of Phoenix, Ariz.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Schulte of Houston visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Crawford last week. Mrs. Crawford is his aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Griffin vacationed last week in Colorado and El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Glenn and girls of Stanton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Glenn, and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Glenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Camp have returned after a week's vacation in Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Missouri. They spent two days with Mrs. Camp's mother, Mrs. J. J. Waldo, in Kingfisher, Okla.

Representing St. Paul's Lutheran Church at the Episcopal Conference Center, north of Amarillo, are Janie Meyer and Phyllis Gerdson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gerdson. The week-long camp is for members of the Walther League.

Mrs. Sue Langford and Mrs. Evelyn Blissard of Fort Worth visited their niece, Mrs. Dick Barrett, and family.

Spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Glenn were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Orwin Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Gunnels.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Petty and boys of Andrews are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Patterson and Debbie of Abernathy were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Berry.

Larry Brown, son of Dr. and Mrs. Toney Brown of Houston, is visiting relatives in Canyon for a few weeks.

John W. Wilson, son of the P. M. Wilsons, entered Veteran's Hospital Tuesday for an orthopedic operation.

Merchants Committee Recommends Holiday

Canyonites can look forward to another long weekend, since the Fourth of July falls on Monday this year.

Most Canyon businesses will be closed for the holiday, as recommended by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Nearly 70 Enter Kids' Fish Rodeo

Nearly 70 young fishermen participated in the Jaycee's third annual Fish Rodeo at Doug Rittenberry's farm Saturday afternoon.

In the division for 10 to 14-year-olds, Lane Cosly's 11½ inch catfish won him the biggest catfish prize. Mike Turner won the biggest perch prize with a 8¼ inch perch.

Chester Hales took the prize for the most fish by catching 52. Billy Don Crossland had second most with 36, Toby Mahle was third with 30, Randy Callison was fourth with 26, and Judy Frank had fifth most with 15.

In the division for 3 to 9-year-olds, a 12 inch catfish won the biggest catfish award for Mary Lou Parker and another 8¼ inch perch won biggest perch prize for Sherry Hales.

Richard Fulton's total of 53 fish was tops in the younger division. Second most was Jimmy Newberry's 21, third was Allen Carruth's 19, fourth was Craig Parker's 19. Gene Morrison caught 11 for fifth most, Eva Joan Frank caught 11 for sixth, and Bynum Morris caught 11 for seventh most.

Judges were Woody Pond, game warden; Richard Pruett, chairman of the rodeo; and Joe Gidden.

Prizes for the rodeo were donated by Bellah's Super Market, Canyon Drug, Cheatham Clothiers, Cooper's Market, Cunningham Appliance, Hosea Foster Insurance, H. R.'s Greenhouse, Jennings Men's Wear, J. J. Walker Prescription Lab, Radio Appliance, Taylor and Sons, Thompson's Hardware, Village Drive-In, Warren's, Western Auto, and White Auto.

John L. Williams donated worms for the contest.

Knox Services Held on Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Arnetta Knox of Happy, Randall County pioneer, were held Friday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church of Happy with Rev. C. B. Hogue of Post officiating, assisted by Rev. Floyd Haddock of Happy.

Mrs. Knox, 86, died Wednesday in Neblett Hospital. She was born August 2, 1873.

Her husband, J. B. Knox, died in January. The couple moved to Randall County in 1899 and resided in this county until 1955 when Mr. Knox retired and they moved to Happy.

Mrs. Knox was a member of the Baptist Church of Happy and the Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery, with LaGrone Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements. She is survived by eight daughters, Mrs. Viola Buchanan, Mrs. Novella Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Bertie Culp, all of Happy, Mrs. Eula Hayes of Tulsa, Mrs. Jimmie Day of Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. Roxie Gillespie and Mrs. Grace Selders, both of Amarillo, and Mrs. Sue Adecock of Chester, Calif.; one son, Carroll Bray of National City, Calif.; 20 grandchildren, 37 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Pall bearers were Bill Piehl, Charlie Kelly, Jess Curb, Don Foster, Emil Schaeffer, Thomas Sexton, Wiley Day, and Morland Manigal.

Along with 100 degree weather has come the usual summer doldrums, which make working almost impossible and relaxation a must. Some Canyonites have headed for cooler spots in mountains or on seacoasts for vacations. Others who are not so fortunate grab their moments of leisure activity in small snatches in the evenings or on the weekends. Many have found that one of the best ways to relax and forget the troubles of the world and the heat of the day is to grab a pole and wait patiently beside a stream for the fish to bite. David and Martha Hughes tried the latter method Saturday afternoon, along with nearly 70 other youngsters, at the annual Jaycee Fish Rodeo. A few won prizes for catching either a big fish or a lot of fish, but everyone, including the youngsters, enjoyed getting away from it all for at least a short time.

Kiwanis Install Trampoline Units

Six trampoline units have been installed in Conner Park, according to George Ritter, a member of the Canyon Kiwanis Club board of directors.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the trampolines will open at 10 a.m. and run until 10 p.m., except on Wednesday, when they will close at 5:30 p.m.

Rates will be 40 cents per one-half hour.

Instruction by Jim Greenwood will be available. Classes will be arranged at the convenience of students.

Semi-Pro All-Star Teams To Play in Conner Park

All-star players from the Irrigation League will play the Caprock League all-stars at 8:30 Saturday night on the Babe Ruth League diamond in Conner Park. Both leagues are semi-professional.

Towns in the Caprock League are Amarillo, Borger, Clarendon, and Stinnett. Amherst, Nazareth, Silverton, Springlake, Tulsa, and Umbarger make up the Irrigation League.

Petition Protesting Chickens Heard by City Commissioners

A petition protesting the presence of two commercial chicken houses inside the city limits was presented to the City Commission Monday night.

Signed by 42 persons, the petition, which was not formally filed, protested that commercial caged-layer operations owned by Keith W. Poole in the northwestern part of the city are "a nuisance and a hazard to the health of the citizens."

The petition was presented by J. P. Hammons, who also showed commissioners photographs of a large number of flies. He claimed the chicken houses were breeding places for flies.

City commissioners took no action, since Hammons withdrew the petition at 6 a.m. Tuesday, just eight hours after he presented it to the commissioners.

City Manager Herschell Stevens reported that the Potter-Randall

Bi-County Health Commission had repeatedly given Poole a good report and said the operation was not a problem of health.

City Commissioner Delbert Lowes said, "We have to rely on the report of technicians in this matter."

A. W. Lair, who acts as city attorney, advised commissioners that no ordinance could be passed now to force Poole to move outside the city limits.

Lair also said the only city ordinance prohibiting keeping chickens inside the city limits applied to individuals only, and not to commercial enterprises.

Asked if there was any doubt that the chicken houses are breeding places for flies, Hammons said, "We didn't have any flies before he came, and I don't think there's any doubt about it."

Hammons said the petitioners had lived in the area or had seen the large number of flies that infested homes in the northwestern portion of town.

"I've got several citizens — as good citizens as anyone — to go up there and look, and they were surprised. They didn't know anything like that existed."

Angel To Be Sworn In July 5

Wayland C. Angel, Randall County farmer, will be sworn in as county judge Tuesday.

He will replace W. J. Fleisher, who was appointed by Commissioners' Court after Roy Joe Stevens resigned.

Angel eked past an Amarillo attorney, Carroll Brown, in the Democratic runoff election June 4 to win the judgeship. Three other opponents were eliminated in the May 7 primary.

Stevens resigned in March after a televised hearing by the House Investigations Committee. The committee, at its three-day hearing, accused Stevens of "official misconduct, unethical practices, and association and relations with crime and the criminal element."

Stevens resigned April 1, saying his resignation "is not to be construed as an admission of guilt of any of the allegations, charges, and insinuations that have been made against me." He had been county judge since January 1, 1953.

After the resignation became effective, the Randall County Democratic Executive Committee designated a special filing period for candidates for the office.

Meanwhile, county commissioners appointed Judge Fleisher to the position until the Democratic primaries were held.

Judge Fleisher accepted the position after telling the commissioners he would serve only until a new judge could be elected by the people and qualified.

Angel has lived near Canyon 19 years. His farm is located four miles north and one mile east of the city.

He is married and has three children, Mary, 11, Clifford, 9, and Kenny, 7.

County Tax Rate To Stay at $1.92

Despite a warning from Tax Collector Bill Money that the county will lose $40,000 from the tax rolls because the personal tax on autos has been dropped, Randall County commissioners did not hike the county and state tax rate for the coming year.

The rate will remain at $1.92 per $100 valuation for the coming year, the commissioners decided Monday.

Other discussion at Monday's meeting centered on roads for new developments, overtime pay for county road workers, and bids on a two-ton truck.

Emmett Fuqua of Amarillo requested that the county grade a road through a tract four miles from Amarillo on FM 1541 where he has a development planned. The court took no action on the request. Judge W. J. Fleisher suggested that they make their decision after a full study of such requests for future development is made.

B. E. McCormick, precinct 1 commissioner, moved that he be allowed to pay time and a half to road workers who operate 12 hours a day hauling caliche. C. Y. Johnson, precinct 4 commissioner, and Clarence Beckman, precinct 2 commissioner, said the minutes would show that they agreed not to allow overtime to be paid to county employees to avoid preferential treatment. No decision was reached on the matter.

The court then considered bids on a two-ton truck for use in precinct 1. The low bid of $2,220.45 from Imperial Chevrolet was accepted.

Oberst Presents Scientific Paper

Dr. Fred W. Oberst, son of E. A. Oberst of Canyon, recently presented a paper before delegates from 20 nations who met in England under the sponsorship of the British Occupational Hygiene Society.

Dr. Oberst's subject was "Factors Affecting Inhalation and Retention of Toxic Vapors." It was presented, along with 37 other papers, to 250 scientists at the meeting.

Papers were presented in English, French, and German, with translators on hand to help delegates who could not understand the language of the paper. All papers, including Dr. Oberst's, will be published and made available to scientists throughout the world.

Born in Nebraska, Dr. Oberst came to Canyon in 1910. He graduated from West Texas College

C. E. Thompson Attends Session

Clarence Eugene Thompson, city commissioner, represented Canyon at the First Institute for Mayors, Councilmen, and Commissioners, held June 24-25 in Austin.

The only Panhandle representative attending the meeting, Thompson reported on his trip at the city commission meeting Monday night.

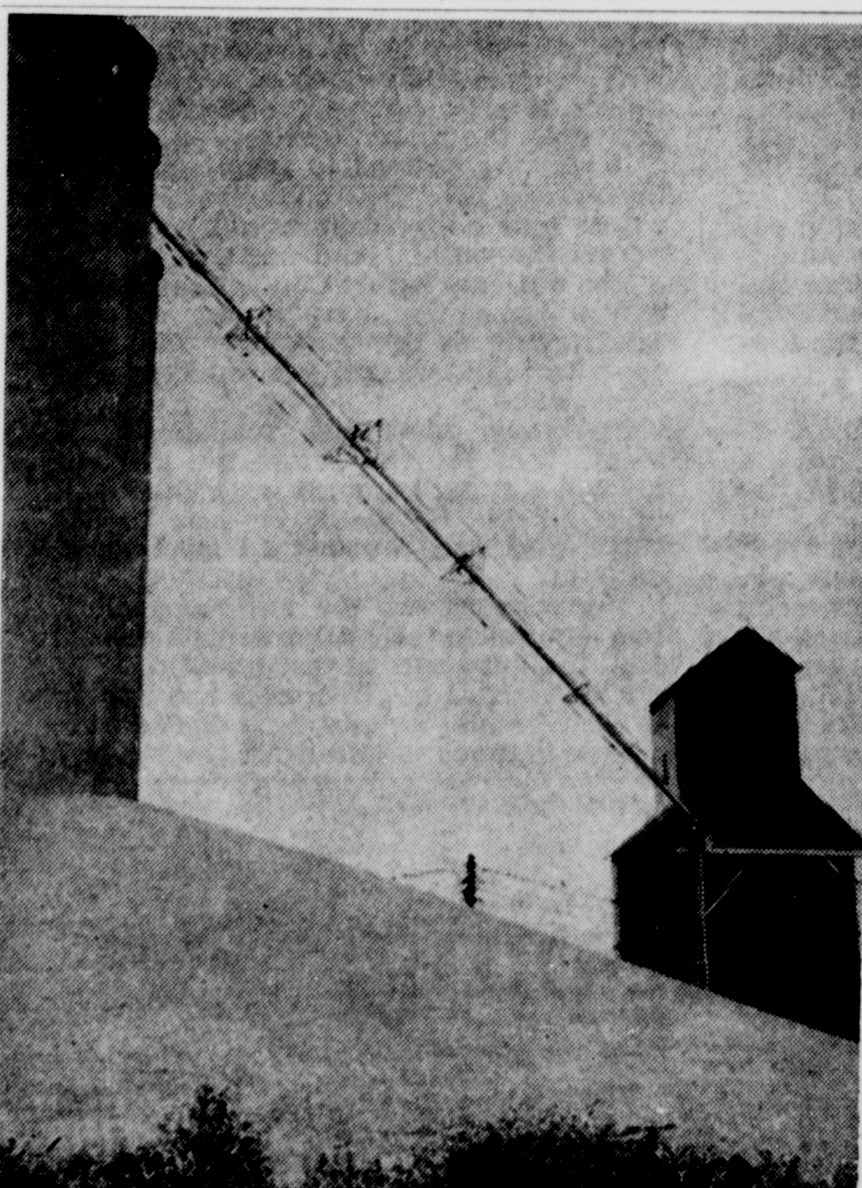

Sponsored by the University of Texas, the Texas Municipal League, and the Association of Mayors, Councilmen and Commissioners, the institute featured sessions on the legal role of city governments, financial and administration functions, and public planning.

Graveside Rites Held for Infant

Graveside rites for James Brian Randles, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Randles of Wildorado, were held Monday with Rev. Dale Cain of the Palo Duro Baptist Church officiating.

The infant was born Saturday in Neblett Hospital and died early Monday morning.

In addition to the parents, the infant is survived by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Roberts of Wildorado, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffith of Wildorado, and James Randles of Rolling Hills, Calif.

Due to the lack of enough freight cars to handle the load, about 225,000 bushels of wheat are piled on the ground beside the Consumers Co-op Elevator. The wheat began piling up June 17 and the pile has grown as more and more wheat has been taken to the elevator. Elevator operators are still waiting for freight cars to move the pile.

Planning Obsolescence

Sylvia Porter, noted financial columnist for several of the country's daily newspapers, has predicted an upheaval in marketing for U. S. manufacturers.

Miss Porter, in a recent column, predicted that one U. S. automobile manufacturer and one U. S. appliance manufacturer would do away with "planned obsolescence" of their products.

This means that a U. S. automobile manufacturer would produce a car whose model would not become obsolete after a couple of years.

That the American people are ready for such a move has been evident for at least two years, Miss Porter says.

Reason for the about-face in the thinking of some manufacturers is obvious:
It is impossible to economically manufacture and market an automobile, for instance, when the model is changed every two or three years.

The American people are on an economy binge at the present time as the increasing sale of small foreign cars and the introduction and booming sales of "economy" cars by American manufacturers proves.

The only trouble with American "economy" cars, however, is that they aren't really economical.

Most purchasers of American "economy" cars feel that they must get as many "extras" for the car as are made. This generally increases the cost of the car by $200 to $300 and cuts down on the auto's efficiency.

The economy aspect of the purchase,
therefore, is forgotten, or at least sidestepped.

The economy aspect of the purchase,
therefore, is forgotten, or at least side-

When the ordinary purchaser buys a small foreign car, the psychology is different. He is usually looking for, and gets, cheap transportation.

On one foreign car, about the most one would usually spend for extras is about $125—and this includes a radio.
The purchaser drives the car away from the dealer for a total cost of about $1,850.

To this low initial cost, add cheap operating cost (one owner recently reported 35-miles-per-gallon on gasoline consumption for a 1,000 mile trip), low depreciation, comfort, and driving and handling ease.

With these facts, it's not hard to figure out why the smaller cars are selling.

Although this might have begun to sound like an advertisement for foreign cars, it's actually an appeal to American manufacturers to follow the lead of their business rivals in other countries and produce a product that a sizeable segment of the American population will buy.

Most of those who are driving foreign cars would just as soon be driving American cars—if the driving could be done as economically.

And until Detroit manufacturers provide these people with as good a bargain as they can get in foreign cars, most will continue to drive foreign cars.

The eradication of "planned obsolescence" and the construction of a solid product is a step in the right direction.

One of Four

Have you ever wondered what they'll say about us a hundred years from now?

One thing that may impress them in 2060 is the quantity of time, energy and funds we devote to education. Believe it or not, approximately one-fourth of our entire population is directly concerned with education, either as students or teachers, all the way from kindergarten through college.

Latest figures of the Bureau of Census show that 44,400,000 individuals are enrolled in schools and colleges, and that 3,500,000 persons are employed by schools —adding up to 47,900,000, or 27 percent of our population of over 178,500,000.

This proportion would become even higher if we were to include as students the adults who are taking a variety of subjects in organized adult education classes in schools and universities. The U. S. Office of Education estimates that eight million men and women attend such classes each year. This works out to one-third of the nation directly involved in formal education.

One way of measuring how far we have progressed is to compare how long youngsters are staying in school these days with an earlier period. A 25-year comparison shows that, for every 1,000 fifth graders in 1924, 612 entered high school, as compared to 836 of our 1948 fifth graders. Of the thousand 1924 fifth graders, 302 graduated from high school and 118 entered college in 1932, while 1948 fifth graders entering high school were 863 out of each thousand, with 581 graduating from high school and 301 entering college in 1956.

There's another way of measuring educational progress: See how many Americans still cannot read or write. The Bureau of Census recently did this and discovered that illiteracy is now at the lowest point in history. Only 2.2 percent over the age of 14 are illiterate, and most are in the older age groups. (The Census Bureau reports that men have a higher rate of illiteracy than women, but prudently draws no conclusion).

The picture of educational progress is not yet capable, however. For example, the earning capacity of a man or woman is closely allied to his or her education—and yet only 60 percent of fifth graders are completing high school; and only half of these enter college. Moreover, the U. S. Office of Education says, despite the surge of school construction since the end of World War II, the huge backlog of need for classrooms has hardly been dented.

The fact that there has been considerable progress in many aspects of education gives rise to the hope that in time other educational problems will be solved.
This is the goal not only of education, but also of millions of citizens, including those active in Parent-Teacher groups and other committees and associations, and of course the parents who want to see their children get the best education possible.

A Fantasy

Imagine, if you can, a deathly still nation over the Fourth of July, its streets deserted of motor vehicles, every car behind locked garage doors.

Think of it — no traffic on the streets.
No trucks, buses, cars or whatnot clogging the streets and highways during the three-day holiday. No din of honking horns and blaring car radios and screeching tires.

Think of it . . .
No trips to Grandma's house. No weekend outings. No one taking a vacation.
Of course, this is strictly fantasy.
We're a motorized nation — a nation on wheels, a nation of people whose life is geared to the motor vehicle.

If we were ordered to keep our car in the garage for three days, we'd set up a fuss and holler that would be heard 'round the world. And rightly so!
The National Safety Council and Texas Safety Association have always encouraged people to have fun over the holidays, to take trips, to get outdoors and enjoy life.

But they point out, realistically it seems, that you can't have fun and enjoy life very well from a wheelchair . . .
or a grave! So please be sure to use extra care and courtesy to meet extra danger!

Everyone agrees the auto and all it has brought to this nation are marvelous.
But the auto was never intended to be an instrument of death over the Fourth of July holiday or any time of the year.
So use it properly and drive courteously.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: The Dee O. Little youngsters from Sherman paid their first visit to the mountains in the company of their parents recently.

The family drove up to Red River, N. M. Because they'd be traveling across the flat Texas plains, Mrs. Little did a lot of the early driving, and she started a little game.

"How many think Mama is the best driver?" she asked and raised her hand.

She got one vote.

"How many think Daddy is the best driver?" sang out one of the three small boys. Four hands went up.

When they went over Red River Pass, Daddy was driving. The pass is 9,000 feet up, but what you notice is down. The second son, Robert, began getting a little nervous, and his mother patted him and said, "Don't be afraid, Robert, Daddy is a good driver and will get us there safely."

David, six, joined in immediately.

"Sure, Robert," he said. "You voted for him, didn't you?"

You can't prove you are a good talker by doing it all — comparisons are needed.

Rock-and-roll came into vogue

I have given the matter consid-

Greiner Finishes Disbursing School

Army Pvt. Hugh F. Greiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Greiner, 110 28th Street, completed the six-week disbursing specialist course at The Finance School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 17.

Greiner, 23, was trained in the methods and procedures used in accounting for receipts and payments made by finance disbursing officers.

He entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kans.

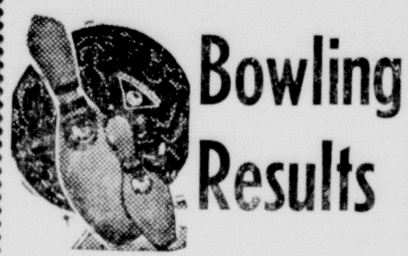

Greiner, a 1954 graduate of Canyon High School, has attended the University of Illinois, Champaign, and is a 1959 graduate of West Texas State College.

Character is formed from habits—see to it that they are good.

Self-made men would be more popular if they didn't talk shop.

Bowling Results

Play in summer leagues got off to a big start last week at Canyon Bowl.

In the eight-team Professors League on Monday nights, the Watts are in first place with seven wins and one loss. The Newtons have five wins and three losses, the Farads, Coulombs, and Joles are four and four, while the Webbers and Lumens are three and five. The Henrys are in last place with a 2-6 record.

In Mens Scratch League play, the Abstractor, Accountant, Farmer, and Brads won four games, while the three Aces and the No Names are tied for third with three wins and one loss. Pond Insurance and the Keglers are tied with one win and three losses, and the Hardlucks and White Auto have won none, lost four.

The Leftovers are in first place in the Beginning Women's League with four wins and no losses, and the How Comes and Sloppy Strikes are tied for second with three wins and one loss. Bowling Pins and the Milk Widows are tied for fourth with one win and three losses, while the Bowling Widows are in last place with no wins and four losses.

In the Couples League, the Stragglers are in first place with four wins, no losses, and Team 3 is in second with three wins and one loss. Ten Pins and Taps are tied with two wins and two losses. Team 4 won one and lost three and Team 1 lost four games.

The pot will be increased to $79.40 Friday night in Jackpot Bowling as no one was able to get six strikes in a row last Friday. Don Mansell rolled four consecutive strikes, but failed to hit the pocket for numbers five and six.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Fanning are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nedra Lynn, to Thomas E. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Davis. Vows will be exchanged July 16 in Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the West Texas State College campus.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

A lively argument about marriage was going on at the beauty shop the other day. The shopowner, an efficient and forthright young wife, was telling a teenager what makes a marriage succeed. The girl was all for "keeping one's own personality" and "an independent attitude."

"It's gotta be give-and-take," the woman declared. "You can have some independence, yes; but if you insist on spending your evenings with the girls you can just bet your man is going to do the same — and probably with the girls, too! You have to make partnership decisions or your marriage won't go."

Her advice was good, but it wasn't getting through. A young girl can't quickly apply general terms to her own idealized picture of married life.

Women from seven European countries recently gave their ideas of the "prime requirement" for a happy married life. These ranged from cleanliness, through economy, good food, a large family, no nagging, and keeping one's good looks, to a more spiritual attitude in the home.

In truth there is no exact formula. Although a reasonable amount of each of the ingredients mentioned by the European house-holders is necessary, any woman who carries one or more of them to excess is likely to sacrifice marital happiness by overlooking other values just as essential in her own case.

A sense of humor, keeping a man's ego built up, sharing (or not sharing) in his hobbies, developing (or not developing) an absorbing interest of one's own, having a career or not having one, cottoning to the boss's wife or leaving her alone — these are a few conditions that must be met. The proportion of materials that go into the final recipe depend on the man and the maid.

"With a family of three, I shop for a family of twelve!"

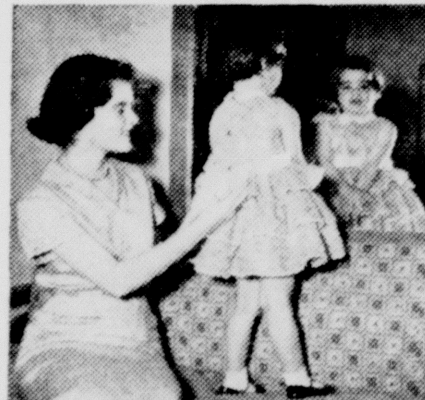

says Mrs. Harlan F. Gibbs, OF ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO

"Cheaper by the dozen," says Mrs. Gibbs. To explain her statement, she continues, "By buying in large quantities, I am able to save considerably on our food budget. In addition to dollar savings, I practically have a super market in my freezer, open 24 hours a day. And that means wholesome and delicious food because we have garden-fresh fruits and vegetables all year 'round."

WATCH and WIN!

Be sure to get your demonstration of an electric home freezer, electric dishwasher, electric range or electric clothes dryer (or, all four) at your Reddy Kilowatt dealer and then register for each demonstration. You may win one of the major appliances to be given away.

SEE YOUR PARTICIPATING REDDY KILOWATT ELECTRIC APPLIANCE DEALER

Mrs. Gibbs is a four-appliance owner and so, finds time that she can devote to her family. Reddy can help you save time in the same way, working dependably 24 hours a day to freeze your food, wash your dishes, cook your meals and dry your clothes. Give him the chance, he'll not let you down.

Benevolent Bird

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

The bald eagle, a symbol of the United States older than the Constitution itself, is known throughout the world as an eternal representative of American freedom, independence, and democracy.

Perhaps best known to Americans as part of the Great Seal which appears on every $1 bill, the eagle is also found on many government publications and in some of our most hallowed national shrines. The Great Seal has always displayed the eagle in its central position since the Continental Congress first approved a seal for the United States in 1782.

Perhaps the founding fathers would be mildly surprised to learn that the symbol they approved many years ago is today reflecting the American position so accurately in many ways. I like to reflect upon at least two recent incidents in which our old eagle has played a part, and I must admire this resolute creature for his profound understanding of our constantly shifting fortunes in a complicated world.

The United States, as you may know, is currently constructing a new embassy in London, to be decorated by a huge aluminum eagle with a 35-foot wing spread. Since our country has poured billions of dollars of foreign aid into Great Britain and other countries since the outbreak of World War II, it is perhaps only appropriate that our friend the eagle should be described as looking "benevolent." I can't help but wonder if, in addition to "benevolent," he also looks penniless.

Since almost everyone knows that friendship can't be bought, it also seems logical that some of the British would call our feathered representative a "blatant monstrosity" and ask the House of Commons to "give it the bird."

The British Minister of Housing and Local Government is "studying" the situation, with plenty of assistance probably from the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Perhaps the entire difficulty could be resolved to England's satisfaction if a hose were built into the eagle which would shower dollar bills on waiting Britishers in the street below.

If you think that building such a hose into the eagle would be a bit far-fetched, just look at the Russians. They built an entire microphone-transmitter system into an eagle which was to be placed over the desk of our ambassador in Moscow. The eagle, a part of a Great Seal which was hand-carved by the Russians, was planned to be an unwilling accomplice in Soviet spying activities.

The Trojans, of course, played this same game with a horse thousands of years ago, except that the Russians used an electronic gadget in the place of armed men. At any rate, our eagle was displayed in the United Nations Security Council recently after the listening device had been discovered and removed.

Our eagle told the world something that some nations appear to have forgotten: tyranny and totalitarian principles are forever the enemies of liberty, despite the outward assurances of such leaders as Khrushchev.

The Russian boss, in an orgy of unprincipled sham and hypocrisy, says that "we are people of high and lofty moral standards" and that these standards are indeed so high as to place spying outside the wildest dreams of a Russian. Our friend the eagle, with his arrows in one hand and olive branch in the other, again lent its force to the American cause and thereby served its nation well.

Perhaps the United States, and its Department of State in particular, might be wise to keep a close eye on the various activities of our great representative of the national purpose. When he begins looking "benevolent," perhaps it would be time to re-examine our position. And when he looks "bugged" we might adopt more determined efforts to keep ourselves from being overheard—or overawed. In any case, the eagle has again proven himself to be a great and staunch friend.

MISS JOHNNYE WEEKS

Johnnye Weeks, Elmer Clement
Reveal Plans for August Wedding

Announcement of the forthcoming marriage of Johnnye Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weeks of Canyon, to Elmer Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clement, also of Canyon, was revealed at an early morning coffee given in the home of the bride-elect's parents Saturday morning.

The Joseph A. Hill Chapel will be the setting for the 5 p.m. ceremony August 14.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Ed Weeks, mother of the bride-elect, Miss Weeks, the honoree, and Mrs. T. J. Clement, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The announcement was revealed on coffee coasters used at the silver service.

Members of the house party were announcement corsages giving the names and date of the approaching marriage. The serving table was draped with blue net over floor length folds of bridal satin and caught at intervals with an arrangement of silver lace.

The center arrangement carried out the vocational motif of the teaching field and the sport of boxing. The bride-elect has been associated with the Quanah Public Schools this past year, and the bridegroom was runner-up in the state Golden Gloves tournament this year. The bride-elect's chosen colors of white, silver, and blue were featured in floral arrangements throughout the entertaining rooms, along with boxing trophies won by the bridegroom-to-be.

Mrs. Tom Crompton of Quanah and Mrs. Jack Weeks of Mineral Wells, aunts of the bride-elect, alternated at the silver service. Mrs. Bill Mayfield, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Jack Metcalf, sister of the prospective bridegroom, both of Canyon, alternated at the registration table.

Appropriate background music was played during the coffee hours of 9 to 11 by Janice Weeks of Mineral Wells, cousin of the bride-elect.

Other members of the house party were Regina Cato of Quanah, Mrs. Jack Clement of Amarillo, sister-in-law of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Homer Hines and Martha of Quanah, also cousins of the bride-elect, Mrs. Jeannette Robins, Mrs. Bob Brotherton, Mrs. Gene Golsen, and Bernye Bob Woodward, all of Canyon.

The bride-elect, assisted by her mother, entertained the members of the house party with a luncheon following the coffee.

Fast, efficient soil preparation and row crop cultivationThe Farmhand HAROWEEDER with unique VIBRACOIL ACTION

THE HAROWEEDER is a dual-purpose machine... an amazingly efficient harrow and a fast row-crop cultivator that beats anything ever used in corn, soybeans, cotton, small grains, sorghums and sugar beets. Here, from one dependable unit, you get the speed and efficiency that pays off in more bushels, cleaner fields, less time spent in the field.

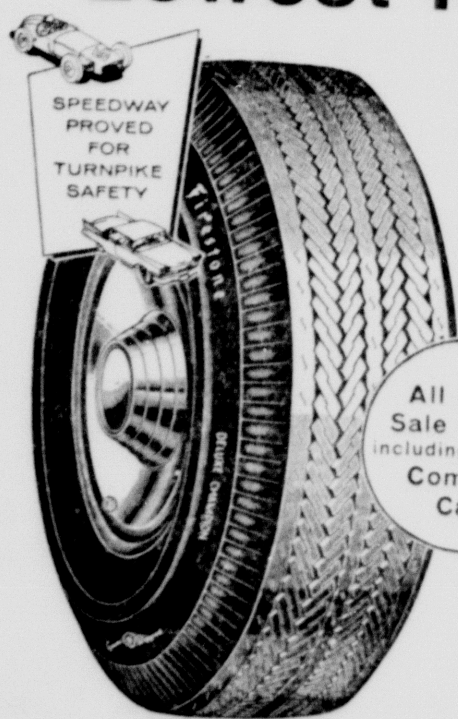

THE EXCLUSIVE "vibracoil" action of the specially tempered coil-spring teeth penetrates deeper, turns soil up from underneath, preserves sub-soil moisture. The Harrowweeder is available in 15 to 55 ft. widths, and it quickly folds to 7 ft. for easy transport.

IT ONLY FEELS LIKE POWER STEERING

(Corvair doesn't need it)

Corvair's ingenious design simply places the engine in the rear. That means less weight on the front wheels and a lighter, happier feel in the curve of your hands. No power assist is needed in a car that's naturally nimble. See what a fresh engineering approach can do? From handling and parking ease right on, there just isn't anything ordinary or conventional about Corvair. Look at its practically flat floor, four-wheel independent suspension, fold-down rear seat. Its air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or anti-freeze or radiator repairs... and leaves engine heat and noise back where you've been. All these special advantages are standard in every Corvair. Just wait till you see how much they add to your driving pleasure. But why wait!

Charlie Foster, Canyon's only full-time fireman, inspects one of the fire trucks which he keeps shiny and in good condition. In addition to fighting fires, Foster works with Canyon's fire marshal in inspecting schools and hospitals to make sure that they are properly equipped and properly trained in what to do in case of fire. Foster and his family moved to Canyon the first of March from Clinton, Oklahoma.

No Large Fires, But Fireman In Canyon Has Plenty to Do

By BOB TAYLOR

Canyon's only full-time fireman, Charlie Foster, has made many improvements in the Fire Department since he came to Canyon the first of March.

Foster brought his family—his wife, Jean; Ellen, 11; Stephen, 8; and Stanley, 6—from Clinton, Okla., where he had been in the fire department for eight and a half years. He was assistant chief of the Clinton fire department when he left.

During the four months that he has been in Canyon, Foster has been working to improve the department and the town's fire-fighting equipment. He has used his skill as a mechanic to overhaul the pump on the 1939 fire truck and keep the other equipment in good operating condition.

Plenty to Do

Although there have been no big fires since Foster began work here, he has found plenty to do. He helped Jack Jennings, Canyon's fire marshal, with the fire drills in the public schools. They also inspected the schools and found that some of the fire extinguishers being used were the wrong type. These have been replaced by the proper extinguishers.

When the hospital was inspected, it was found that they too had improper fire extinguishers, which were replaced. Foster also met with the business manager at West Texas State College, who agreed to replace the extinguishers at the college as soon as possible. Foster plans to inspect all the business buildings in Canyon "pretty soon."

Foster cannot inspect private homes, but he says that they often have fire hazards which should be corrected to reduce the danger of fires in the home.

Heater Closet Dangerous

"The number one hazard in most homes," Foster said, "is using an enclosed hot water heater for storage space. This is especially dangerous when dust, mops, oil, or furniture polish is stored there."

Canyon's volunteer firemen hold two meetings a month at which Foster instructs them on principles of fire-fighting. In addition to these regular courses, Foster also has given classes at the hospital on fire safety and emergency evacuation.

Foster did not decide to become a fireman when he was a small boy watching the shiny red engines whiz down the street; his decision was much more routine. He knew the fire chief in Clinton, who called him one day and asked if he would like to work as a fireman. Foster said he would.

Attends Fire Schools

By taking courses in various places, Foster has learned quite a bit about fighting fires. He went to the fire school at Stillwater, Okla., for two short courses on "just about everything about fire-fighting, from the first steps on up."

He went to a fire inspectors' conference in Lubbock, took courses on aircraft crashes and rescues at Amarillo Air Force Base, and plans to go to the state fire school at College Station in July. "The fires we've had here since I came have all been small ones,"

Foster said. "Several of them started from burning trash. Sometimes the trash is still burning when it is collected and put in the trash truck. This sets fire to the trash already in the truck, and we have to put it out."

Little League Manager

"There have also been a few car fires, caused by backfires. We use a dry chemical on them which puts them right out."

Foster's "full-time sideline" is managing a Little League baseball team. "I didn't think I'd have enough time, but they needed managers, so I accepted," Foster said.

Foster has a radio in his pick-up which keeps him in contact with the sheriff's office. This way he can be easily contacted no matter

Workshop Has July 1 Deadline

Enrollment deadline is July 1 for a two-week high school speech workshop, featuring practical experience and preparation for participation in school contests, at West Texas State College. The workshop will be July 17-30.

Sponsored by the WT speech department, the workshop will be devoted to instruction and practice in dramatics, debate, declamation, oratory, interpretation, and extemporaneous speaking.

Instruction will be given by Dr. Crannell Tolliver, professor and head of the speech department, William A. Moore, director of dramatics at WT, and Dr. Loyd C. Farr, forensics director.

The workshop also is designed to aid high school students who wish to participate in contests, but who have no speech teachers in their schools, Dr. Tolliver said.

Practical fundamentals of debate will be taught, and the 1960-61 high school debate question for Interscholastic League use will be studied and debaters will have opportunity to make preparation. The many areas of dramatics will be utilized and students will participate in several productions.

A full program of organized recreation has been planned, Dr. Tolliver said. Students attending the conference may live in WT dormitories for the period, and eat in the college cafeteria.

where he is in case of a fire.

"In this business you have to keep learning all the time," Foster said. "I have to keep up with all the new chemicals that come out, because some burn differently and some give off harmful gases."

"There is one other thing I wish you'd tell them," Foster concluded. "I have been reading about insecticides and have found that there are over 7,000 different kinds. If a child swallows some, the parents should bring the can or bottle with them. It will tell the doctor what to do for the child; otherwise he would just have to guess at what kind of poison the child had swallowed. This could mean the difference between life and death for the child."

The man with the most generous impulses usually lacks the means to carry them out.

A man may be driven to drink, but he usually has to walk back.

Turkeys, Melons Top Foods List

Looks like a spread for an old-fashioned Fourth of July Picnic! That's how the Texas Extension Service, College Station, describes the U. S. Department of Agriculture's July plentiful foods list for this area.

There is turkey for the main dish, surrounded by a variety of summer vegetables, with watermelons, cantaloupes, and peaches for salads and desserts.

Farmers are marketing about 10 percent more turkeys this summer than last. In addition, cold storage stocks are larger than last year and larger than average, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Larger crops than last summer are expected for onions, potatoes, lettuce, celery, eggplant, green peppers and cabbage. Heavy supplies of lemons and limes suggest many cool and refreshing beverages. Also, USDA July plentiful foods list for this area.

People who talk too much about their good qualities always give themselves away.

14 Other League Games Played

Don Howard Saturday pitched what is believed to be the first no-hit game since the Little League started three years ago. Howard's pitching gave his team, the undefeated Redlegs, a 5-1 win over the second place Yankees.

Only one out away from a no-hit, no-run game, Howard walked two men, and an error permitted a Yankee to score. The losing pitcher, Bruce Winn, struck out nine men, gave up only five hits, and walked only four.

In other Little League major games, the Redlegs ran away from the Dodgers, 29-0; the Yankees whipped the Braves, 13-4, and the Braves beat the Dodgers, 15-11.

In minor league play, the Phillies defeated the Cubs, 12-5, the Tigers scalped the Indians, 16-6, the Tigers downed the Phillies, 12-8, and the Phillies trounced the Indians, 17-5.

Three games were played by the

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Amid the searing, summer weather, Texans are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide water plan.

Though Texas is supposed to be mid-way in a seven-year wet cycle now, unexpected harsh drought settled on parts of South and South Central Texas in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pasturage began to burn. Though conditions were better elsewhere, the difficulties of the farmers in the areas around the Capitol City lent emphasis to Gov. Price Daniel's plea for a "crash program" to develop a water plan. If Texans don't do it, said the governor, the federal government will take over.

Target is to have a complete master plan for development of Texas' water ready by May 1, 1961. To help meet this deadline, the governor asked representatives of the river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the water board by November 1. He also asked the river authorities to lend engineers and technical personnel to help prepare the state plan.

Meanwhile, farmers, watching their corn burn up in the fields, took what comfort they could from the often-repeated statement that "Texas has plenty of water; it's just a matter of distribution."

Steep Grades Ahead
Looking ahead 10 years at estimated costs of state government, the governor's State Finance Advisory Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses.

Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission September 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due October 10.

Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the commission indicated a need for spending $29,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down the new money needs and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase.

Finance Study Groups
Making up the Finance Commission sub-committees which will work through the summer to find answers to Texas' worrisome money problems are a group of citizens with more than average experience in public affairs and finances.

The panels and their chairmen, as named by Commission Chairman

John Redditt, are:

Sources of Additional Revenue: Dr. George C. Hester of Georgetown.

Financing Law Enforcement, Welfare, Hospitals and the Industrial Commission: E. B. Germany of Dallas.

State's Fiscal System and Deficit Problems: Ben H. Wooten of Dallas.

Public Schools: Thomas B. Ramsey of Tyler.

Higher Education: Dr. Frank Connally of Waco.

Highways: Herbert C. Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs.

More From Funds?

Facing a money-short future, a state senate committee is studying the possibility of earning higher returns from the investment of state trust funds.

Sen. Hubert Hudson heads the panel which is studying administration and investment of four funds totaling $1,200,000,000. They are the University Permanent Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System Fund, and the State Employees Retirement Fund.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of safety by investing in government insured home mortgages. Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earnings over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administration and counseling on the four funds.

Warning For Drivers
This year's Fourth of July falls on a Monday, making a longer holiday for fun—and accidents.

Department of Public Safety has predicted 27 traffic deaths in Texas between 11:15 p.m. July 2 and 11:59 p.m. July 4.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, said all available patrolmen, including those from licensing and weights and inspection would be on the road.

"Their purpose is to render a service to the traveling public," Garrison said. "They need the full cooperation of all motorists in driving safely and sanely at all times."

Saunders Case Argued

Court of Criminal Appeals is to rule next fall in a case hinging on whether a witness can be convicted of perjury in connection with testimony before a legislative committee.

Defendant in the case is J. Byron Saunders, former chairman of the State Board of Insurance, who was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment for lying to a legislative committee about funds received from ICT Insurance Co. while he was in office. Saunders' attorney contended that perjury is possible only before a judicial body, not before a legislative committee.

The miracle man of today sprinkles the salt of economy on the tail of his earnings just to keep them from flying away.

FATAL ACCIDENTS

DATE FATALITIES

★ DATE DEATHLESS DAYS

THE DEADLY TRUTH—About traffic safety in Texas in 1959 was that only one day in the whole year was free of traffic deaths. In 1958, there were five "Deathless Days" in Texas, four in 1957, five in 1956, three in 1955. If more Texans will drive in such a way that their cars are never involved in a crash which takes a human life, then Texas can record more "Deathless Days." Will YOU drive so that the Fourth of July holiday will add a "Deathless Day" to the Texas traffic calendar? (Official 1959 Texas Traffic Death Calendar Compiled by Statistical Services, Texas Department of Public Safety and Reproduced by the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, Austin, Texas.)

The amazing Sunmobile, a car that runs on sunshine, is shown in action in this time exposure. The button-like photovoltaic cells on the hood turn light energy into electrical energy to move the model car. A 300-watt lamp simulates the sun. The Sunmobile was one of the demonstrations in the General Motors science show Previews of Progress at West Texas State College Tuesday at the Fine Arts Building theatre.

Progress Preview Shown at College

Science came alive in demonstrations and language everyone could understand when the General Motors Previews of Progress was presented Tuesday at West Texas State College.

A miniature car powered by the sun, a roaring jet engine, and synthetic rubber that leaped from a pop bottle were a few of the demonstrations of the 40-minute stage show.

Staged to dramatize science's key role in industrial progress under America's free economy, Previews of Progress was seen by about 30 science teachers and several area science classes.

Other demonstrations by the two-man Previews team included another example of sun power—the fuel cell in which "liquid sunshine" provides the power for a portable radio.

They also showed how television shows are sent across the nation and how space ships of tomorrow will be controlled by the same whirling gyroscopes that guide today's ships, planes, and rockets.

Besides the seven teams operating in this country, Previews has 14 units touring Europe, South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. Total world-wide audience has now passed 23 million.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Stubble mulch farming offers one of the most economical and effective measures for controlling wind and water erosion on dryland fields in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

Stubble mulch farming means leaving as much residue as possible on the soil surfaces. Each farming operation should aim towards accomplishing this objective. The supervisors of the Randall-Potter SCD point out that by burning stubble a farmer loosens humus and valuable plant food that has to be replaced with costly fertilizers. According to USDA, this loss could amount to $4 worth of nitrogen per acre.

Stubble mulching can be done with a large number of implements but sweeps and chisels are probably the best implements to use to keep the residues on the surface.

To estimate the amount of stubble left on a field after harvest use this rule of thumb. For each bushel of grain harvested there is approximately 100 pounds of residue. Thus a 15 bushel yield means 1,500 pounds of residue. This residue should be managed in such a way so as to leave approximately 750 pounds of residue on the soil surface through planting of the next crop.

To measure plant residues use a yardstick to measure a circle with a 35 1/2 inch radius. All residue in this circle should be placed in a paper bag and weighed in ounces. Multiplying the number of ounces (less weight of bag) by 100 gives the pounds of residue per acre.

CLINTON SMITH

Accountant Joins College Faculty

A Houston accountant has been appointed an assistant professor of business for the year 1960-61 session at West Texas State College, President James P. Cornette has announced.

Clinton A. Smith, who has been an accountant for Shell Chemical Company for five years, and is now accountant for Jefferson Chemical Company, will join the WT faculty in September.

Recently acquiring status as a certified public accountant, Smith holds the B.B.A. degree from North Texas State College and the M.B.A. from the University of Houston. He taught elementary accounting while doing graduate work at North Texas State, and has been a part time instructor of cost accounting at the University of Houston.

Inattention Cause Of Boat Wrecks

The Texas Highway Department, official boat-registering agency for Texas, cautioned motorboat operators to use common sense afloat at all times—not just during National Safe Boating Week, July 3-9.

The Texas Water Safety Act requires accident reports to be filed with the Texas Highway Department. Reports to date indicate that inattention and unsafe conduct on the part of boat operators cause 63 percent of motorboat accidents. Weather conditions account for 21 percent. The department points out, however, that some of the weather caused accidents could have been avoided if the operators had checked local weather reports.

Department statistics indicate that 90 percent of the operators involved in accidents have had more than 100 hours of experience—shattering the popular belief that inexperienced boat operators have the most accidents.

The Highway Department urges a two-man crew when pulling a skier—one to operate the boat, and the other to keep an eye on the skier.

One of the most common accidents involves only one person in a boat pulling a skier. The boat operator, watching the skier, fails to watch the path of his boat and collides with another boat or object. More than half (53 percent) of the reported accidents are classified as collision with another boat or object.

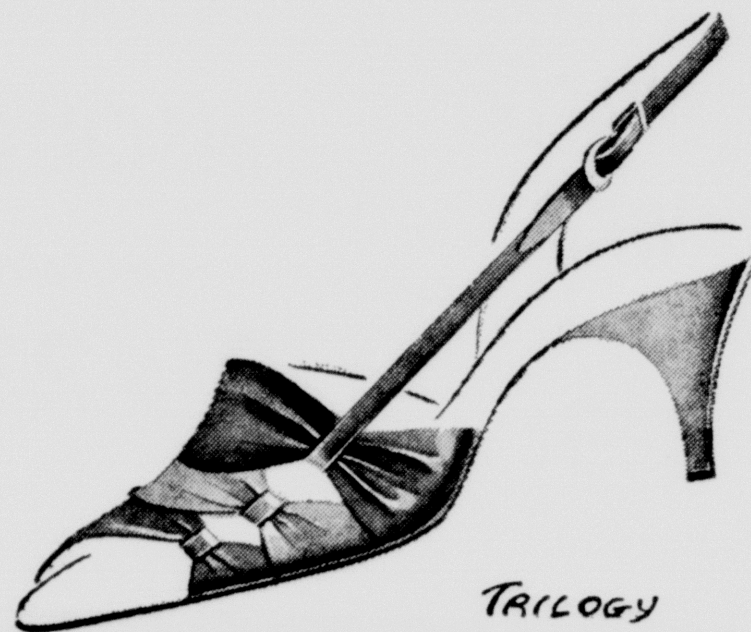

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have twin six-year-old daughters. Before going to the Air Force in 1951, Smith was a social worker for the State Department of Public Welfare.

Completing arrangements for the showing of the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum are C. Boone McClure, director, left, Dr. Waldine Tauch, sculptor and sponsor, and Erwin O. Wesp, president of the academy. A tea, to be held Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the museum, will draw some of the Southwest's finest artists.

Coppini Exhibit, Tea to Draw Southwest Artists Sunday

An exhibition of works by members of the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts will be opened Sunday in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, with a tea which will draw 10 of the Southwest's finest artists.

The artists, all Academy members, will have works among the 107 paintings and pieces of sculpture on display. C. Boone McClure, director of the museum, said he expected Leota Douglass, Raymon Froman, Templa Holland, Inez Hummelbaugh, John F. Lewis, John Bob Payne, Harold Roney, Rolla Taylor, Olive Vandruuff, and Erwin Wesp to be present at the tea, to be held from 3 until 5 p.m. in the museum's Hall of Fine Arts.

Trend of Thought

The exhibit, second by the Academy at the museum, will present various subjects in oil, water color, and sculpture.

The public is invited to the tea and exhibit.

Not used in the usual sense, the word "Academy" denotes a trend of thought. It is named for Dr. Pompeo Coppini, whose works include the Centotaph in San Antonio, the Littlefield Memorial Foundation in Austin, the John H. Morgan Equestrian Group in Lexington, Ky., and Terry's Texas Ranger on the Capitol grounds in Austin.

Plan to Paint Here

Wesp, who will be here Sunday, is president of the Academy, and Holland is a past vice president. Taylor, who plans to spend several days painting in Palo Duro Canyon and surrounding area, is a past president. Payne also plans to paint in the area.

Two paintings by Mrs. Vandruuff were recently added to the permanent collection of the museum.

Navy Announces Reenlistment Plan

The Navy Recruiting officer for Canyon has announced that persons who have been discharged less than two years are now eligible to re-enlist in the rate they held upon discharge, provided they are in one of the critical rates.

Among the 42 rates open are deck, ordnance, electronics, precision equipment, administrative and clerical, miscellaneous, engineering and hull, construction, and aviation.

Interested ex-Navy men may contact their local Navy recruiter in room 112-B, Old Post Office Building, 7th and Taylor Streets, in Amarillo.

Other Artists Listed

Other artists whose works will be shown are Ruth Anderson, Elba Bettley, Elma Boyer, Frances Brinkmeyer, Nellie Buel, Joy H. Carrington, Mabel K. Cheney, Alice Chilton, Barbara Cordy, Virginia Crumpton, Ruth Duncan, Bruce Harper, Dwight Holmes.

Carl Hoppe, Bob Johnson, Doris Johnson, Jeanette Milam Jones, Melvin D. Jordan, Evelyn Kennedy, James Lemons, Clay McGaughey, Hazel Mickelson, Gene A. Mikuli, Jane Murphy.

Gilbert F. Neumann, Ann Page, Rowena Peabody, Jimmie Robinson, Porfirio Salinas, Teen Tyler, Frank Vlasak, and Ray Whipple.

DPS OFFICIAL SAYS

Careful Safety Planning Needed For Long July 4th Weekend Trip

"Planning for your safety is as essential in your July 4 trip as planning for the trip itself," Major Harry Hutchison, regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said in announcing the department's detailed program for the upcoming July 4 weekend.

Fourth of July weekend accidents are being planned now, Major Hutchison explained. People plan to drive a four-day trip in two days, or they plan to drive too far without rest.

"This kind of planning means that they will exceed legal speed limits to reach their relatives or friends and return during the holiday period. Or they will attempt to cover the last few miles when fatigue has endangered their ability to stay alive," Major Hutchison said.

Thoughtlessness, impatience, and fatigue accompany drivers on poorly planned trips, Major Hutchison continued. "During our detailed program every available commissioned officer will be used to augment our regular patrol in order to reduce traffic accidents to a minimum."

Hutchison said the detailed program during the July 4 weekend will be the Highway Patrol, backed up by all other commissioned officers of License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection Services, working extra long hours to apprehend speeders and other hazardous drivers.

Radar will be used, along with all other ways of traffic law enforcement, Major Hutchison warned.

"We are going to do our very best to reduce traffic accidents during this Fourth of July weekend, but we will need the help of every driver to accomplish the job," Major Hutchison concluded.

Take things as they come—do your best, but don't expect to bat 100% every day.

Hepatitis Felt as Officials Rush Globulin to Local Authorities

The wave of infectious hepatitis now sweeping the nation is being felt strongly in Texas.

State Health Department officials are rushing quantities of gamma globulin to local health authorities who request it for use in forestalling further increases in cases of the liver ailment.

An aggregate of 1,061 cases of the disease—sometimes called "yellow jaundice"—had been reported as of May 28, compared with 553 cases for a similar period last year.

Infectious hepatitis, caused by a virus, is usually transmitted through close contact with infected persons and through contaminated milk, food and water.

A closely related disease called serum hepatitis is spread by accidental inoculation of infected human blood or blood products, or by use of needles contaminated with traces of blood from infected persons.

The 10 leading causes of death in Texas during 1959 caused 60,721 out of a total of 73,753 deaths. Heart diseases and cancer were the number one and number two killers respectively.

Heart disease accounted for one out of every three deaths—24,629—and coupled with cancer—11,086 deaths—claimed half of the total for last year.

Apoplexy was the third ranking cause of death followed in order by accidents (including automobile), diseases of early infancy, pneumonia, birth defects, general arteriosclerosis, diabetes, and suicides round out the top 10 killers.

Two-thirds of all deaths in Texas are attributed to the four leading causes which includes accidents.

Improvements in the control of communicable diseases—malaria, tuberculosis, yellow fever and typhoid—have made all of these diseases, except tuberculosis, curiosities in Texas.

The chronic diseases—heart and vascular diseases, cancer, and diabetes—are now the leading causes of death along with accidents and infant deaths.

Percentage-wise, the 10 leading causes of death accounted for almost 82 percent of the total deaths last year.

New Pension Law In Effect July 1

Several thousand widows and children of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict will become eligible to receive pension payments on July 1, Roland Black, assistant veterans county service officer, said.

Prior to passage of the new law, known as the Veterans Pension Act of 1959, dependents of deceased World War II and Korean Conflict veterans were entitled to pension only if the veteran had a disability which resulted from his active military service.

The new law provides benefits to the dependents of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict if the dependents meet certain limitations with regard to income and the size of their estate.

Black said that a small percentage of the widows and children in Texas who could benefit from this law have applied to the Veterans Administration for the benefits to which they are entitled.

Black may be contacted at the Chamber of Commerce office, or additional information may be obtained from Rhea Smith, whose office is in the old Library Building, 6th and Taylor, in Amarillo. Smith is veterans county service officer.

Honesty and deceit are both boomerangs, but honesty always looks better when it comes home to roost.

Real popularity is priceless—the kind you buy is worthless.
